

WE invite attention to the letter of "Lex" which we published in our column. Our correspondent is familiar with the subject of the letter, and writes, as we have under the inspiration of no private motive.

CONFIDENTIAL GREENBACKS OF THE denominations of $1, $2, $5, and $100 were found on the persons of the kidnappers recently arrested in this city by the military authorities.

J. W. Williams and J. T. Niblack were arrested yesterday for highway robbery, and committed to the Military Prison.

A lieutenant belonging to the rebel army was arrested in the city yesterday, and confined in the Military Prison. He had ordered a Confederate uniform to be made for him at one of our clothing establishments, and it had just been completed when he was arrested.

Three fur coats and an overcoat, stolen from C. Jenkins, of Market street, above Second last Saturday night. The thief has not been detected.

The 4th Pennsylvania, 15th Ohio, and a detachment of the 3d Ohio, arrived in the city yesterday, en route home to enjoy their furloughs of thirty days.

One hundred men were arrested and confined in the Military Prison at 4 o'clock during the night of last evening, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

A number of the re-enlisted regiments are passing through our city to the front, their furloughs of thirty days having expired. The 7th Pennsylvania, part of the 96th Ohio, and 3d Wisconsin passed through yesterday for the front.

Two hundred and nineteen recruits were received from Columbus yesterday, and will be forwarded to the front this morning.

A number of deserters were sent to different points yesterday, in irons and under heavy guards.

Six deserters, arrested in Indiana, were brought to this city yesterday.

The 10th Ohio left this place for their home yesterday.

Geo. W. Matly, of the 23d Indiana, and Louis Keeler, of the 5th Kentucky Infantry, were arrested in the city yesterday as deserters.

John A. Lyon, merchant tailor, corner of Second and Jefferson streets, together with his cutter, R. A. Thatcher, were arrested by the military authorities yesterday for making a Confederate uniform for a rebel officer.

A German tailor, on the corner of Fourth and Market, under Deppner's, was also arrested for making rebel uniforms. We did not learn what disposition was made of their cases, owing to the embargo laid on legal items of a military character.

A number of liquor sellers were up before the Provost Marshal yesterday, charged with selling liquor to soldiers. The penalty for such an offence is confiscation of all the liquors found on the premises of the accused, and bond in sums ranging from $1,000 to $5,000.

Gov. Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee, arrived in this city, from Nashville, last evening.

A magnificent office clock was presented to the National Hotel yesterday by Mr. Joseph Werne, of the extensive jeweller establishment on Main street, between Fourth and Fifth, as a token of his respect for the popular politician, Mr. Charles McKim.

A man from St. Louis was arrested by the military detectives, charged with passing a counterfeit $20 Treasury Note.

WE are under obligations to our young friend Wm. Ehrlich, of the news depot at the corner of Third and Main streets, for late New York and Chicago papers. He keeps always on hand all the latest news, and is a most reliable source of information.

The telegraph lines between Lexington and Chattanooga are again in working order.

We learn from the Nashville Press that on last Saturday a squad of Stokes's cavalry attempted to rob a Mr. Holt, in the neighborhood of Trinne. Mr. Holt refused to give up his money, when the cavalrymen shot him dead. Several of Mr. Holt's negroes, who were with him, were also shot.

We learn that a man named G. W. Janison and his son were arrested near Williams-town, Grant county, on Wednesday last, on suspicion that they were bushwhackers.

While being conveyed to Williams-town, they attempted to escape, but the parties having them in charge, and were shot. The former was instantly killed, and the latter severely wounded.

Rear-Admiral Porter is at present visiting Cincinnati, on a tour of inspection to the navy-yard, and the new iron-clads being constructed in that city. The Black Hawk, his flagship, is still at anchor.

Our correspondent of the Bank of North America, Philadelphia, has made its appearance. It is a ten altered from a one, and so skillfully executed as to deceive ordinary judges of money. Also, a new counterfeit twenty dollar bill on the Pittman (Pa.) Bank; vignette, saw-mill, figure 20 on the upper corner.

Madame B. Brown's grand concert takes place at Masonic Temple to-night. This will be a rich treat to the lovers of excellent music. Go early.

ESCAPE OF FEDERAL PRISONERS.—We were called on yesterday by Col. Troxell, of the 10th Iowa Cavalry, who, in company with Col. Clift, of the 7th Tennessee, and several others, twenty-one in all, escaped about two weeks ago from the rebel military prison at Anderson, Georgia. They got out in the morning about one o'clock. They had made a trial once before and failed. The first time they dug under the wall, but they were caught. They then dispersed in different directions. Col. Troxell remained two days and nights in the woods within a mile and a half of Anderson. It took him nine days to get across the lines, and he found our forces at Charleston, Tenn. He suffered much from cold, but, passing himself off as one of Longstreet's men, he did not have much difficulty in obtaining what he wanted. At his arrival within our lines, he met Col. Clift, who, after a short interview, he was committed to the Military Prison.

Still we congratulate Col. Clift. It is better to be within the Federal lines without than in a rebel prison with a double star.

WOOD'S THEATRE.—The beautiful and touching play of Lusciana Bandini drew an immense audience last night, and the effect was marvellous. The actors all exhibited their parts excellently, and the performances throughout elicited enthusiastic applause. To-night, the popular play of the Hidden Hand will be presented, in which the charming Mary Mitchell personates Capella. This is a favorite piece in our city, and we expect to see a crowded house. The performance concludes with Tuesday after the wedding, very amusing play.

WE are pleased to observe a number of very essential improvements being made at the military prison at Anderson, Tenn. The charge of that institution. It is undoubtedly one of the nearest and best regulated prisons in the country. We have never enjoyed any experience in its luxuries, however, but judge from the tidy appearance of everything in and around the place.

Colonel Sidney M. Barnes has resigned the command of the 8th Kentucky Infantry, which he held since the organization of the regiment in September, 1861, and is now on his way to his home at Still Springs, Kentucky. Col. J. C. Davis has been appointed to the command of this regiment.
